

WHAT IS AN ADRC?

The Aging and Disability Resource Center (ADRC) enables people to find resources in their communities and make informed decisions about long-term care, help people conserve their personal resources, maintain self-sufficiency, and delay or prevent the need for potentially expensive long-term care.

ADRCs also serve as the single access point for publicly-funded long-term care, including Family Care and IRIS.

WHY CALL THE ADRC?

The ADRC may provide you information and connections to resources and services you may not be aware are available. These resources and services are intended for older adults and individuals living with a disability to help them live as independently as possible.

AREAS WE SERVE

The ADRC of Northwest WI serves Polk County, Burnett County, and The St. Croix Chippewa Indians of Wisconsin.

Information & Assistance Specialist (I&A):

Our specialists will listen to your concerns, assess your needs, and connect you to resources and service providers. Information & Assistance Specialists are also the main entry point to long-term care programs, including IRIS and Family Care.

Social and Medical Transportation Programs:

Provides non-emergency medical transportation and social event transportation.

Tribal Liaison:

Our tribal liaison is the bridge between the tribal government and the local government, working closely with the St. Croix Tribal staff in Aging, Community Health, and Community Services to make sure that all aging and disabled individuals are connected to the local, state, and federal resources and programming that are available to them.

Benefit Specialists (B.S./BenSpec):

Explore private and/or government benefit options. Benefit Specialists provide information & assistance, education, and advocacy for a variety of programs.²

Nutrition Program:

Group dining or meals delivered through the Mealson Wheels® program are offered for individuals that meet the criteria.

The Voice: A monthly newsletter with useful information about updates in the community and additional resources.

Dementia Care Specialist (DCS):

Serving all who are impacted by Dementia. The DCS provides support, education, and resources no matter how advanced the stage.

Health Promotion Workshops: These programs are designed to help you learn how to live a healthier lifestyle by addressing stress, falls, caregiver support, and chronic conditions.
